Student	Feedback	Response
Student 1	The expectations were pretty clear and studying the CK-12 material helped me prepare sufficiently for the Student 2	I really like the format of this test, the long answer questions stress me out so I think its better to have more short answer questions you can put more detail into. I also really liked ck12 as a resource. I don't know if this test was easier than previous tests because of the questions or because I understood the material better from ck12. it felt easier but it might be more about the same as winter tri (not too sure). I would love more tests and lesson plans like this in the future. loved the notes policy. I went to my onenote at a couple points to look over notes but mostly used the
Student 3	I think everything about the test was good. One thing I will note is that it was easier than the last test we took in Winter Trimester, but I think that test was an anomaly as nearly everyone found that test really hard. However, it was the same level as all the other tests we've taken this year. I definitely think the open-notes policy and when we were notified was fair, to encourage us to take notes not necessarily for the test. I do think we should keep the open-note policy for the final exam as my notes allowed me to write more detail in my answers, plus taking notes and using them is good practice. Maybe we could submit notes whenever we learn and get the opportunity to takes notes on textbook material that and then use and add onto those
Student 4	It was a little unclear at first when the test was going to be. I feel it would be more helpful if you put a reminder on Canvas. However, the questions did seem fair and I did have enough time to study. I felt a little rushed taking the test because it was open notes so at times I had to look through all of my notes to help me find the answer. If you had given us time to set up our notes and organized them, I wouldn't have felt as stressed.	Sorry about the canvas thing. It was on canvas, but there was a problem with the date so it wasn't showing up on the calendar, only in the Student 5	Was the expectation clear? - Yes Did the questions seem fair? - Yes Did you have enough time to study? - Yes Did you have enough time during the test? - A few extra minutes would've been nice, but it wasn't bad. Do you think the notes policy and when you were	I agree, more people would take them if I told you that you could use them. My intent is to get you to take them in a way that's helpful even if you can't use them. Hopefully creating good study habits

	notified was fair? - I get that it encourages taking notes even when you don't know if you'll be able to use them and I do support that, but I still think knowing in advance would encourage people to take notes more Any other information you think I should consider? - Not especially
Student 6	Great test. I think it was pretty fair and we had enough time to study. I would like more if the questions were in the scrolly format they used to be in. It was easier for me to see all the questions and plus my screen usually takes a little while to load before I can view each question. Thanks!
Student 7	I thought the expectation was clear and every question was fair. Personally, I preferred the format of the test where you could see it all at once, but the content of the test itself seemed
Student 8	For the last question, I would've liked more time, but I think that this is a good format and it rewards taking good notes. It also rewards organization of said notes, because if you don't organize these notes, you may not be able to answer all questions in the time allotted. I liked this test format.
Student 9	Everything seemed fair. However, if we didn't have notes, I do have the concern that studying all the material could possibly take over 30 minutes. That is just how I study though, where I usually spend more time than that.
Student 10	The expectations for this test were very vague. There was not a canvas page for it and no description besides a onenote page. The open notes aspect of the test was also not specified which could have helped. There was also some content covered that touched on very small parts of the CK12 readings (parts of the eye/ear) that I assumed would not be necessary.
Student 11	I feel unfocused and confused in online class. My grades will likely suffer.	Thanks for the information about how you feel during class. Be sure to follow up with me and your other teachers about ways to show your knowledge to avoid having your grades drop due to the online format.
Student 12	Everything seemed pretty fair on this test, including the questions. I think something that could have been considered is the amount of time we had to study for this test, I found myself studying for over an hour each day for the past week, to cover all the material again, but that's just me personally. I also wish we had more time for the test itself, that would have been more
Student 13	One thing that I really appreciated was that it was super clear what we were supposed to study, that really helped me with this test that it was just the ck12 stuff and we didn't have to know anything else for the test. I feel like for the most part the questions were fair and got at the big concepts. I was ok with the notes policy although I was nervous to use it cause I felt like it was cheating even though it isn't. I think it would have been nice to have more time to study, so maybe have the test on Tuesday instead of today so then we have the weekend. I had plenty of time during the test but that was also because I have accommodations for Student 14	summary - I studied for 3 hours and it was too much	I'm happy to talk with you about the 30 minute limit. Keep in mind that 30 minutes does not guarantee that everyone can get an A in the class with that time. There are variances with individual students and with how long they study to feel comfortable/prepared for the test. If you're looking for ways to cut down your time, please follow up with me and we can talk

Student 15	I think this test was a little harder for me as I spent quite a while this week studying and preparing for it. I make extensive study guides about each chapter in the CK-12 textbook which took up much of my time this week and I was unable to properly prepare for my other three tests that I had yesterday and today. If I had known that we would be able to use notes on the test beforehand, I might have been less nervous for the test and been able to also study for my other tests as well. I liked the fact that we were able to use our notes, but had we known at least a couple days in advance, that would have been easier. In addition, this test took me longer to complete than usual and resulted in me running out of time, which has never really happened before. I think the reasoning for this was that, although I felt well prepared for the test even without my notes, I would doubt myself on every answer and would check each and every one with my notes to make sure it correlates. This resulted in a lot of time lost, and caused me to not be able to finish an answer and having to rush through the multiple choice questions. Overall, I liked the structure of the test, however, I feel my execution	I'm happy to talk with you about this to come up with some strategies to improve efficiency. I will be talking about the notes policy and why I did it the way I did in class a little bit. From what I'm seeing here, I think you would benefit from finding a way to streamline your time, both in taking notes and during a test. If you want to talk to me about that directly, please reach out and schedule a meeting
Student 16	The multiple choice was difficult for me and I felt like they were things that were not included in the list of questions, but I see why they were there because we probably learned them in class, and to be honest it is just harder for me to pay attention now because there are no immediate consequences for being distracted. So this was more difficult for me because of the online things. There were also some multiple choice question that I would have liked to be able to write something on the side, like we would have if this was on paper. I am glad we got notes though because I am a slow typer so	Thanks for that feedback. I will address the reason for my notes policy in class. Please reach out to me if you want to talk directly about any of this to make a personal plan for the rest of the trimester.

	it saved me time to copy and past what I had.I was partially rushing, so the time wasn't that horrible. I would also like to know before the test if we had notes, because I could have spent less time studying this because I have three tests today and it took up a lot of
